Skating Career

I started my skating career around the age 4 or 5. I achieved my gold dance, jr. silver skills and jr. bronze freeskate. I also skated synchro for few years in my younger years. As an adult I came back and started skating synchro again with Langton This is when I decided to start the coaching and have enjoyed every minute.

Professional Accomplishments

I work at London Health Science Center for the past 22 years as an x-ray technologist in general x-ray and now the last past three years in interventional x-ray. I started coaching in 2010. In this time I have achieved my canskate certification , canpower certification and my regional coach certification.

When I am not at the arena

I enjoy playing outdoor sports and time with family and friends.
